JOEL 2:25-31...AND I WILL RESTORE TO YOU THE YEARS

KINGSTON PLANTATION
9800 QUEENSWAY BLVD MRYTLE BEACH, SC

Last year, I never thought I would be doing life, running a church, ministering to people, hosting a family conference by myself as the founder. This was not in my plans. I did not expect for God to call my husband of over 40 years home. It has been a year!!

And many of us are in that same boat. We have been through the ringer. We have experienced things within our family and in life that has challenged our faith, fortitude, and belief in God's promises. Some days we see the light and other days we see the ground; mouth and face full of doubt and despair. Sometimes the promise seems redeemable and other days it seems far out of reach. How can the same God who loves allow his people to experience trauma and rejection? How can the same God who saves disciples from sin seem to shield them from safety? Sometimes a rough season feels like rejection and shame. Sometimes the wind that blows from God begins with turmoil. And at other times it seems like the enemy of your soul has the upper hand.

I rise to encourage you that you don't have to stay in the place of shame and doubt. You can believe God and stand on His already proven word. I have been reminded in my time of prayer and seeking the Lord that He has everything concerning us in His hands. The storms may come and the winds have surely blown but they are not detached from God's viewpoint and neither are the plans of the enemy. God has you right where he wants you; totally dependent upon Him. Don't view God's promise as a thing of the past. He is actively nudging you into position to experience the greatest victories of your life and your families lineage.

Many of us are fighting generational curses, spoken word agreements, cult covenants, and family sabotage. I decree over you, your family tree, and your generational heritage: REDEMPTION. The caterpillar, the worm, and the creeping thing must all die. What you are about to walk into will not become subject to what killed you in your last season. Redeem The Promise! Walk In Redemption!
